HISTORIC HERITAGE

Introduction

The purpose of this chapter is to identify those buildings, memorials, objects, places and sites that are significant to the history of the Manawatū District and therefore warrant protection.

Historic heritage resources are a valuable and important part of the cultural values of the Manawatū District. Historic heritage creates a sense of place, encourages a sense of belonging and is a fundamental link between generations. Identification of significant historic heritage resources in the District Plan is required to ensure the protection of these resources and to ensure that historic heritage values are considered in the assessment of resource consent applications.

The Resource Management Act (1991) requires Council to recognise and provide for the protection of historic heritage as a matter of national importance under Section 69(f). The Horizons Regional Council 'One Plan' also sets policy direction for Council's to develop and maintain a schedule of known historic heritage in their district.

The District Plan has a responsibility to recognise and provide for historic heritage as a matter of national importance. To achieve this, the District Plan must:

- identify significant natural and built historic heritage, and
- adopt suitable methods to secure the protection of the significant historic heritage.

This chapter is intended to be read in conjunction with the relevant zoning provisions and appendices and the District Plan maps. Significant historic heritage resources are identified in the ~~appendices~~ schedules attached to this chapter and on the relevant planning maps. The ~~appendices~~ schedules represent the information available at the time of the formation of the District Plan historic heritage chapter. Identification of historic heritage resources, in accordance with the policy guidance contained in this chapter, will be on-going and updated as new information becomes available.

The District Plan contains the following two historic heritage schedules:

- Schedule 4a – Significant Historic Built Heritage – Feilding Town Centre
- Schedule 4b – Significant Historic Built Heritage – Wider Manawatū District

The criteria for assessment of significant historic built heritage aligns with the approach recommended by Heritage New Zealand Pouhere Taonga (HNZPT). These criteria are used to determine whether a building is included in the schedules as a Category A or Category B building in the District Plan. All buildings included in the schedules are identified on the relevant Planning Maps.

A heritage inventory of the buildings identified in Schedule 4(a), is a reference document designed to accompany the District Plan. Schedule 4(b) contains a summary of the heritage values identified for heritage items located in the wider Manawatū District, and an inventory of complete heritage reports relating to heritage items in the wider Manawatū District is available on request¹.

Important Places

The Rangitīkei River estuary is regarded as a regionally important wetland and wildlife habitat, but is located just outside the District Plan’s boundary (mean high water springs). Other important wetlands include the interdunal lakes, and the oxbow lakes which occupy former beds of the Manawatū and Ōroua Rivers. (Listed in Appendix 1A). The dune area to the south of Tangimoana Beach Road is of international importance due to the presence of an endangered sedge, and a nearby area is of regional importance as a habitat for the North Island fernbird.

Many of the District’s rivers and streams have significant value for native and trout fisheries, and as trout and game bird breeding areas.

Much of the indigenous forest in the District already has reserve status and is administered by Council or DOC, including a substantial area in the Ruahine Forest Park. Other bush areas are subject to conservation covenants administered by Council or the QEII National Trust. The District Plan recognises these existing forms of protection. There are however some areas of indigenous vegetation which are ecologically significant, but which do not have any formal protection. The few scattered remnants of lowland native forest are particularly important. The tussock and mountain lands of the Ruahine, Ngāmoko and Whanahua Ranges contain valuable and equally fragile ecosystems, which are managed within the Ruahine Forest Park.

Indigenous forest and habitats for indigenous wildlife can be affected by activities other than vegetation clearance and wetland drainage. Selective logging can have adverse impacts if too many mature trees (important nesting sites etc.) are removed from the forest ecosystem. Most of the District’s remnants of native vegetation are small in area, which makes them vulnerable to “edge effects” such as salt and wind damage, drought, invasion by weeds and pests, and trampling by stock. Trees planted close to wetland remnants can alter their water tables. Sensitive wildlife may be affected by people living nearby, particularly in increased numbers. These effects all need to be recognised.

The wetlands, streams, and bush areas referred to above make a significant contribution to the quality of the landscape. The District’s outstanding landscapes are identified in Chapter 4.3.3. Feilding has a number of large specimen trees which are part of the town’s history. Large trees add considerably to the appearance and character of urban areas, and some of the trees which have heritage value are listed in the Plan (Appendix 1D).

Feilding has a number of large specimen trees which are part of the town's history. Large trees add considerably to the appearance and character of urban areas, and some of the trees which have heritage value are listed in the Plan (Appendix 1D, Page 177). [PC H(b)]

Issues

The following resource management issues have been identified in relation to historic heritage:

1. The desire to retain significant historic built heritage and allow compatible adaptation and reuse of these buildings.
2. The potential demolition or removal of significant historic built heritage resulting in a loss of amenity and character.
3. The need to address public safety concerns through providing for the seismic strengthening of buildings with significant historic heritage values.
4. The need to provide for additions and alterations to significant historic built heritage that is compatible with and does not detract from or remove the heritage values for which the building is significant.
5. The need to ensure signage is complementary to and does not detract from the heritage values for which the building is significant.

Objectives

HH-01

To protect significant historic built heritage that represents the history of the Manawatū District, from inappropriate subdivision, use and development.

HH-02

To ensure special recognition for natural features and places valued by the Tangata Whenua, and to make provision for protection, preservation or use of such places, in consultation with the groups concerned. (Refer also: Objective LU 4 (4.2)).

HH-03

To promote greater public awareness of heritage places.

HH-04

To promote greater public access to heritage places, as long as that access does not compromise the value of those places. (Refer also: Objectives EM 1 and 2 (6.2)).

HH-05

To promote the sustainable management of those areas of indigenous vegetation and habitats which have not been identified as significant. (Refer also: Objective S 11 (5.3.11)).

- a. Category A – significant historic built heritage with values of national significance
- b. Category B – significant historic built heritage with values of regional or local significance

HH-P3

To encourage the continued use and modification for reuse of significant historic built heritage where the historic heritage values are retained.

HH-P4

To encourage the seismic strengthening of significant historic built heritage that maintains the building's significant heritage values.

HH-P5

To avoid, where possible, the demolition of significant historic built heritage.

HH-P6

To encourage the retention of building façades where demolition or substantial alteration of a building with significant historic heritage values is proposed.

HH-P7

To balance the protection of significant historic heritage values with other resource management issues and public safety concerns and in making an assessment under this policy to have regard to, without limitation:

- a. Market conditions affecting the feasibility of adaptive reuse;
- b. The economics of a range of reasonably practicable options;
- c. The contribution that any replacement building might make to the vitality and vibrancy of the Feilding Town Centre.

HH-P8

HH-P11

² Submission by HNZPT (S03/2) and (S03/05)

To only allow relocation of heritage items listed in Schedule 4b where it can be demonstrated that:

- a. The relocation is necessary to save the heritage item and protect the heritage values from the threat of, or damage from natural hazards; or
- b. The relocation will protect the heritage values and significance of the heritage item identified in Schedule 4b, as confirmed by a suitably qualified heritage expert.

Explanation

~~Ian Bowman, architectural conservator, has compiled the schedule of buildings with significant built heritage value, in the Feilding town centre, at Appendix 4A. The District Plan contains the following two historic heritage schedules:~~

- ~~• Schedule 4a – Significant Historic Built Heritage – Feilding Town Centre~~
- ~~• Schedule 4b – Significant Historic Built Heritage – Wider Manawatū District~~

~~The criteria for assessment of significant historic built heritage aligns with the approach recommended by Heritage New Zealand Pouhere Taonga (HNZPT). These criteria are used to determine whether a building is included in the schedules as a Category A or Category B building in the District Plan. All buildings included in the schedules are identified on the relevant Planning Maps.~~

~~A heritage inventory of the buildings identified in the schedule Schedule 4(a), is a reference document designed to accompany the District Plan. Schedule 4(b) contains a summary of the heritage values identified for heritage items located in the wider Manawatū District, and an inventory of complete heritage reports relating to heritage items in the wider Manawatū District is available on request.³~~

To ensure that those natural areas and ecosystems which are important parts of the District's environment are protected and enhanced.

Policy 2.2

To protect listed notable trees in such a way that their significance as a heritage resource and the values for which they were listed are not permanently diminished or damaged. [PC H(b)]

HH-P13

To expand the level of information which is currently available and the level of knowledge which people have about heritage places.

HH-P14

To help preserve and improve public access to the Ruahine Forest Park and other appropriate heritage places.

HH-P15

To encourage the retention and voluntary protection of areas of indigenous vegetation and habitats other than those listed as significant.

Explanation

Section 31 of the Act charges the District Plan with controlling any actual or potential effects of the use, development or protection of land. Such effects include potential damage to heritage values. All of the matters of national importance in Section 6, and most of the matters to which Council “shall have particular regard” under Section 7 also concern natural and heritage values. ~~(Refer Page 1).~~

There are many agencies or parties which are already involved in identifying and ~~trying to protecting~~ heritage places. They include the QE II National Trust, ~~the NZ Historic Places Trust HNZPT~~, the Department of Conservation, the Māori Heritage Council, the NZ Archaeological Association, the ~~Geological Geoscience Society of NZ, Historical Societies, local community and heritage groups, and Mainstreet Programmes,~~ and land/building owners. The methods which they use include education, voluntary agreements, covenants with landowners, a variety of different statutes, and land ownership and purchase.

Under the Act, councils, Ministers of the Crown, and ~~Heritage New Zealand HNZPT~~ are “heritage protection authorities.” Any other body approved by the Minister for the Environment can also become one. These authorities can require Council to include “heritage orders” for specific places in the District Plan, in a similar way to public works designations. They are subject to the same public objection and appeal process as designations. Heritage orders contain specific conditions relating to the use or modification of the place concerned. These conditions could vary from not permitting any change at all, to requiring merely that the protection authority is advised prior to demolition of a building.

The actions of existing agencies will go some way toward meeting the Act’s objectives for heritage places. Council will support these agencies where appropriate, as well as being directly involved in activities which complement their work.

This District Plan provides an avenue and process for possible legal protection. Council may initiate heritage orders for some specific places, but the main instrument for protection will be District Plan rules. Adequate protection for archaeological sites is already provided by the authority process which applies under the Historic Places Act 1993. This process is administered by Heritage New Zealand. Recorded archaeological sites within the District are identified in Appendix 1F primarily for public information. All applications for resource consent will however need to consider any impacts on heritage places, including archaeological sites.

Each heritage place on the District Plan’s list has been identified as being Category A, ~~B or C~~ A or B (Refer: Schedules 4a and 4b). ~~(Refer: Appendices 1A to 1F).~~ Category A confers the highest level of protection, since destroying these places is a non-complying activity. Some modification is allowed, but Council may impose conditions on the manner in which it is done.

For Category B places, Council’s consent is required before modification or demolition, and this consent may be granted or refused.

~~Category C places can be modified “as of right” but advance notice must be given to the Council in the case of building alterations or demolition. This notice is to allow time for the place to be photographed and recorded, and/or for alternative provision to be made for it.~~

Decisions on which natural areas to list as A, B or C were based on the Department of Conservation’s Recommended Areas for Protection (RAP) survey and consultation with statutory bodies, local communities and the general public. RAP’s are the best representative areas of indigenous vegetation found in an ecological district, but RAP status is not a cut-off point for significance. Many other areas in a district are also significant, for a variety of reasons. They may for instance have wildlife habitat values; be reservoirs of biodiversity at the ecosystem, population, species and genetic levels; have landscape values; or soil and water quality values.

As noted above, clearance of certain amounts of certain types of indigenous vegetation will require resource consent, so that the value of that habitat can be assessed. The significance criteria in Appendix 1I will be used for this purpose. If an area is deemed significant, it does not automatically imply that activities are unable to take place, but rather that Council is required to exercise its statutory obligations and may place controls on an activity in order to ensure that adverse effects are avoided, remedied or mitigated. The Plan's rules permit activities with only minor adverse effects. For example, the clearance of young manuka scrub or small areas of indigenous forest and wetland are permitted activities.

A setback distance of 50 metres between plantation forestry in the coastal area and the significant wetlands listed in Appendix 1A is also proposed. The reason for this is that adjacent tree plantations can have an adverse effect on the ecology of such wetlands due to impacts such as lowering the local water table.

Rules

1. Rules in this chapter apply District-wide and the chapter needs to be read in conjunction with the District Plan maps, relevant appendices and provisions of the applicable zone to determine if an activity involves the use or modification of historic heritage resources.

Guidance Note:

1. Demolition of any heritage item listed in Schedule 4b which pre-dates 1900 requires an Archaeological Authority under the Heritage New Zealand Pouhere Taonga Act (2014). It is an offence to modify or destroy an archaeological site or destroy an archaeological site or demolish/destroy a whole building if the person knows or reasonably suspects it to be an archaeological site. An archaeological site is any place, including any building or structure (or part of), that:
 - was associated with human activity or the site of a wreck of a vessel that occurred before 1900; and
 - provides or may provide, through archaeological investigation, evidence relating to the history of New Zealand.⁴
